Dear Parents, I want to start out by wishing everyone Happy Holidays! With winter break coming up quick, we have some fun activities planned for the kids!

Please remember to bring a Doctor note for any missed days. I keep them in a monthly file.

We will have another Parent workshop on December 6th, 2019, please remember you must complete two workshops before the end of the school year!

Enjoy winter break with your kiddos! Can’t wait to see you in 2020!

What you can do to promote early learning

1. Play with your child and provide opportunities for them to play. Play is essential for healthy brain development.
2. Turn off the TV. A young child’s brain is largely shaped by his/her development. Children need activities that stimulate the frontal lobe by involving all the senses, not just passive viewing.
3. Read and talk to your child. Phonemic awareness of sound comes from listening to the human voice.
4. Model the joy of learning and discovery. Go to parks, the beach, zoos and take children on walks. These types of activities stimulate early learning.
5. Connect with your child. Connections boost children’s brain potential, encourages cooperation, promotes learning and literacy, increases attention, decreases power struggles and builds loving bonds.
