Dear Parents,

Welcome Back! We are so excited to get the school year going again. We have all faced a new normal and we are happy to come back to some sort of structure. This year we will be dismissing from the front of the school to reduce contact. Without you checking your child out in the café, you will not be able to see the parent board and know what is happening. Communication will be coming in written form to keep you informed of program information. We are focused on tutoring this year to help the students catch up lost academic time. If you have any specific information we need to know, feel free to ask questions or share your concerns.

Please send a labeled water bottle to school with your child. Remember, pick up time is still 5:47-6:00. We are looking forward to an awesome school year!

Three reasons every father should read to their child and not just moms:

- 1. Dads provide a different set of skills to their children. When mom and dad read to their children, it positively impacts their learning. When fathers read to their children, the child's verbal skills can increase by up to fifteen percent, which does not typically happen when just moms read to them.
- 2. Children are better behaved. Studies show that when fathers read to their children and share other caregiving responsibilities with mom, their children have better attachment, they have high self-esteem, and show better social competence. The time fathers spend with their children builds their literacy skills, the child has better impulse control, shows a greater ability to take initiative, and are more empathetic.
- 3. Children do better academically. When dads model the importance of literacy to their children, they perform better in academic endeavors, and have higher scores on standardized achievement tests.
